Introduction to Entrepreneurship

Interested in getting the right information on starting your own business?
Always wanted to be your own boss?
Well the opportunity has arrived.

The Brooklyn Economic Development Corporation in conjunction with Kingsborough Community College is hosting monthly workshop sessions on the introduction to entrepreneurship that will give you a glimpse into the world we call "Entrepreneurship".

The "Introduction to Entrepreneurship" workshop will provide a 2-hour overview of the risks and benefits of self-employment. Participants will be introduced to the attributes of being a successful entrepreneur, understand the magnitude and responsibilities of "being your own boss", and review some general guidelines to consider before seriously considering self-employment.

Join our instructor Mr. Brendan Guastella, who is the owner of Soundview Business Consulting (www.soundviewfirm.com), a Brooklyn based firm that specializes in assisting entrepreneurs, start-ups, and other small businesses in the New York metropolitan area.
